GRADUATE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION MINUTES

At its meeting on December 10, the Graduate Students' Association Council passed a motion recommending that student representation on General Faculty Council be increased to twenty, including four graduate students. Council felt that a larger number of graduate students would be difficult to recruit, and would not increase the effectiveness of the Association's representation.

BRYCE SCHURR, of the Department of Psychology, was elected vice-president to replace BOB NEWELL, who was elected president at the previous Council meeting.

The nominations committee decided to extend to January 5 the deadline for nominations for the graduate student consultant to the Board of Governors. Nominations will be received by the Graduate Students' Association office, telephone 432-5329, between 1 and 4 p.m. each weekday.

It was decided to distribute a questionnaire to all graduate students on their sources of income as students. This information will be used to seek ways of improving graduate student support on campus and to discover how the White Paper on Taxation will affect graduate students.

It was decided that Graduate Student Night at the Faculty Club, a social evening held on a trial basis for the past two months, would be continued. All professors and graduate students are encouraged to attend each Tuesday, except the first Tuesday of each month, at 8:30 p.m.

CARTOGRAPHIC WORKSHOP

A cartographic workshop, sponsored by the Department of Geography, will be held January 5 and 6. It is the first meeting of this kind to be organized by a university in Canada and will be attended by representatives of several universities, the National Research Council, private industry, and federal and provincial government departments.

Among the topics to be considered are "Education for Topographic Cartographers," "Education for Thematic Cartographers," and "Regional Atlases." The workshop has been planned by a committee headed by J. J. KLAWE, Professor of Geography.

All sessions will be held in the Henry Marshall Tory Building, Room 3-58.

DISPOSAL AND CARE OF LABORATORY ANIMALS

C. HEATH, Director of Laboratory Animal Services, wishes to bring to the attention of academic and non-academic staff the fact that all persons on the University staff who use laboratory animals in their teaching or research are responsible not only for humane and proper procedures, but also for the disposal of such animals. Under no circumstances may they take animals home or dispose of them to anyone inside or outside the University without first obtaining written authority from the Director, Laboratory Animal Services.

All animals under experiment or utilized in teaching must be considered to be the property of the University. With the exception of animals used by the Faculty of Agriculture, the ultimate responsibility for their maintenance rests with the Director of Laboratory Animal Services.
